

McRoyal Industries Celebrates 70 Years of Legacy, Craftsmanship & Innovation

Youngstown, Ohio – 2026

This year, McRoyal Industries proudly celebrates its 70th anniversary, honoring a legacy built on craftsmanship, innovation, and unwavering customer commitment. Founded in 1956 by John N. Lallo, the company has remained in its original location, growing from a modest local cabinet shop to a nationally respected name in custom cabinetry, casework, countertops, and millwork. Today, 3rd generation family remain as part of the dedicated leadership team.

Humble Beginnings with Big Vision

McRoyal's early days were defined by ingenuity and versatility. "If it could be put on paper, we could fabricate it," was more than a motto — it was a mindset. The company's first products ranged from magazine racks and footstools to custom cabinetry and tops, rapidly building a reputation for high-quality, dependable craftsmanship.

In 1964, McRoyal helped shape what would become an iconic American brand. Leroy and Forrest Raffle had a bold idea for a new fast-food restaurant concept. McRoyal partnered with the Raffle brothers to design and fabricate their first store interior. That restaurant, located in Boardman, Ohio, became the first Arby's.

From 1964 to 1970, McRoyal shipped custom counters to virtually every Arby's across the country, cementing its position as a trusted partner in the food service industry.

Building a National Footprint

After its success with Arby's, McRoyal continued to work with some of the largest names in hospitality and retail, including:
